INTERNSHIP EXPERIENCE

Weekly Report of Legal Internship

I pursued my physical legal internship in the District & Session Courts, Tis Hazari, under Advocate Vipin Kumar, for a period of one month from 1st July to 30th July, 2022. The timings were the regular Court timings from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., after which I used to go to the office till 5 pm to research further and study cases.

Week – 1

On the first day of the internship, I attended a briefing session call from 10 am to 12noon.

I accompanied sir to what became my first day in the premises of the Tis Hazari, District Court. My first impression of the district court was honestly of horror as I found myself stuck in utter chaos. It was a little hard at first, but then I got used to it and started learning a lot more than I had expected.

In the court, I attended multiple hearings in cases like Partition Suit, Divorce Cases, Cases for restitution of conjugal rights etc. While attending the cases we were instructed to write the case number and the next date given by Judge. Occasionally, sir used to ask legal questions pertaining to what I observed in the court.

Week – 2

In week 2 of my internship, I specifically became responsible for a few cases as I was expected to keep in touch with the cases going on, the document needs to attach with case file and keep sir informed about the next date and court room.

The difficult part of this task was that I have no knowledge about court process and documental work and I also face difficulty in finding room numbers in court. But with the help and guidance of sir I able to understand the legal documents and court working.

Additionally, by end of this week I was even exposed to and began understanding the working of the District Court By this time I also memorised the locations of different courtrooms in the extremely cast court.

Week – 3

After having attended the court proceedings and gaining knowledge about the complexity involved in a Trial before the Family Court and Civil Court, in the third week, my work became more specialised in researching cases and applicable laws.

During this week I gained and got an opportunity to expand my knowledge base. I studied various sections and rules under the Civil Procedure Code, 1908 and Indian Contracts Act, 1872 that I was largely aware of due to the college syllabus. Accordingly, during the course of the internship, I learnt about the practical application of various sections of these already taught statutes. Such as – CPC, Hindu Law, Property Law and Cross-Examination conduct during trials in court room.

Week – 4

Finally, in the fourth week of my internship, I could actually make sense of all my observations throughout the internship and my interest areas as well.

This is to say that I understood the way the different advocates deal with cases and the response of different judges in terms of different situations arising in the Court.

This internship definitely helped me to study the different aspects of law at the root level and the practicality of such aspects in the Court of law. Additionally, it taught me different ways of responding to and tackling different sorts of judges' questions.

CONCLUSION

On a concluding note, I can confidently say that my one-month internship at TIS HAZARI, district court proved to be productive. I learned that it is important to intern at the bottom level to gain knowledge about the basics involved in the working of the judiciary. Once your basics are strong, it becomes easier to understand the higher levels of the judiciary and the administration.

Additionally, the people I was working with were extremely friendly since they helped me a lot to understand how the Court works and where to go and what to do, particularly because I was so lost during the first two days and most of all they helped me understand the legal world.

This internship also strengthened my research skills as I was allotted mostly research-oriented work in the 3rd week of my internship. I am really thankful for the fact that I got such a wonderful opportunity to intern and focus on my productivity even in such stressful situations.
