Course Description

This course probes into the rich tapestry of values and ethics in ancient Indian traditions, drawing on texts and philosophical insights that have guided Indian civilization for millennia. Participants will explore the profound wisdom of Indian philosophy and the practical application of these values and ethics in modern contexts. Through this course, learners will gain a deeper understanding of ancient Indian traditions and their relevance in today's world.

Course Objectives

The course will enable the students to:

- Examine the foundational principles of ethics and values in ancient Indian traditions.
- Explore the major philosophical schools of thought in Indian philosophy.
- Analyze key texts, scriptures, and teachings that embody Indian values.
- Understand the practical application of these values in daily life, including decision-making and relationships.
- Reflect on the timeless relevance of ancient Indian values and ethics in contemporary society.
- Foster critical thinking and intercultural understanding.
- Apply the wisdom of ancient Indian traditions to personal and professional development.

Course Outcomes

Upon successful completion of this course, students will be able to:

- CO1: Describe the fundamental ethical and moral principles in ancient Indian traditions.
- CO2: Identify and explain the key philosophical schools in Indian philosophy.
- CO3: Analyze select texts, scriptures, and teachings representing Indian values and ethics.
- CO4: Apply Indian values and ethics to real-life scenarios and decision-making.
- CO5: Discuss the continued relevance of these values in modern contexts.
- CO6: Engage in discussions and reflections on intercultural values and ethics.
- CO7: Integrate the wisdom of ancient Indian traditions into personal and professional growth.
