The University organizes regular sports activities and competitions for students and faculty members to enhance their physical and mental health. The students from KRMU also participate in sports events held by other universities/ colleges and institution.

2. Mentoring

Mentoring takes place in the context and setting of universal human values. It is the most important part which helps students connect with the university, faculty and other students. It gets the student to explore oneself and allows one to experience the joy of learning, stand up to peer pressure, take decisions with courage, be aware of relationships, be sensitive to others, understand the role of money in life, and feel prosperity, etc. Mentoring is a means to connect with the students and most importantly to build relationships between teachers and students which last for their upcoming 3 to 4 years and possibly beyond. For this, a Mentor (Faculty) is allotted to a particular Mentee (Student) for her/his entire stay at the university. This is done with an objective to build and maintain a stronger bond between the two in a longer duration for the growth of the Mentee. It is done by getting students to explore and think by engaging in dialogue, group discussions and real-life activities. The bond so generated helps the students during tough times in study courses.

3. Familiarization with School/Department

Through these sessions the students are familiarized with their schools/departments and programme of their study, labs and other facilities.

4. Creative Arts and Culture

The students are exposed to culture and art forms like painting, sculpture, music, dance etc. which enable them to express themselves creatively. This helps students develop a sense of aesthetics and also enhances creativity which flows into their studies too.

5. Literary Activities

Literary activities encompass opportunities like debating, reading, writing, enacting a play etc. through such activities, the students explore the richness of languages and thereby contributes to it.

6. Lectures by Eminent People

For this, professors, alumni, socially active people, professional experts and industrial experts are invited so that the students can keep themselves updated and informed.

7. Visits to Local Areas

The University also takes its students on visits to industries, villages for extension programmes, orphanages, visits etc. which helps them bond with each other on the one hand while on the other hand it also attaches them with the society at large and do some community service.

These clubs and societies essentially work toward student-centred development. It is a forum, where through the mode of cultural and other such activities, the students meet each other, exchange ideas and develop into good human beings. Through the active engagement of students, fresh talents in stage, literary, art, science etc are identified.

The objectives of these clubs and societies are to promote mutual contact, a democratic outlook and a spirit of oneness among students by simultaneously developing their social, cultural and intellectual aspects. They specifically work towards identifying the general needs of the students and then conduct various co-curricular activities like sports, NSS, cultural, and health-related activities. This facilitates the students to come closer and work together as a team while organizing and conducting big events like freshers' meet, cultural programmes or annual fests etc. Activities organized by different clubs/societies work towards social awareness, social upliftment, environmental conservation and several other initiatives which the faculty and students take up together as a team.
