Event Type: Workshop

Mode of Activity: Offline

Target Group: Young Girls and Women of Lakhuwas

Faculty Coordinators: Ms. Akanksha Kumawat, Assistant Professor, SOAD-FD

Ms. Yashasvi Rajawat, Assistant Professor, SOAD-FD

Student Coordinator: Lalita, BA, FD 3rd Year

Organized by: School of Architecture and Design – Fashion Design

Number of Participants: 12

School of Architecture & Design - Fashion Design Department organized an extension activity in Lakhuwas village with the goal of promoting skill development and empowerment. After prior liaisoning with the Village Panchayat, the activity was done in collaboration with District Administration Gurugram, focusing on teaching stitching and embroidery techniques. Under the guidance of the Fashion Design students, Lalita and Anjali (BA FD, 3rd year) and faculty members, Ms. Yashasvi Rajawat and Ms. Akanksha Kumawat, participants were introduced to fundamentals of stitching techniques including running stitch, backstitch, and hemming. They were also taught use of basic embroideries to be used for enhancing their garments.

To facilitate the learning and to promote future use of the techniques taught, the participants were provided with sewing kits containing needles, threads, and fabric. Through step-by-step demonstrations and hands-on practice on fabric swatches, the participants successfully stitched products and gained a comprehensive understanding of various embroidery techniques. They were encouraged to explore their creativity and prepare their own stylized motifs. The faculty coordinators highlighted the success stories of those women who have utilized these skills to start their own business or contributed to their household income in order to motivate the young girls and to make them understand the importance of acquiring these skills.
