Event Type: Extension Activity

Mode of activity: Offline

Target Group: Employees of RVPN Ltd (34 participants)

Event Coordinators: Dr. Ruchika Yadav (Associate Professor SOMC) and Dr. Monika Yadav (Asst. Professor SOMC).

Organized by:

The School of Management and Commerce at K.R. Mangalam University organized an extension activity where "Innovation in sustainable Development practices" in collaboration with NSS. The activity was conducted in Rajasthan Rajya Vidyut parasang Nigam limited, Bhiwari, Rajasthan to spread awareness about Innovation in Sustainable Development Practices.

Total 20 students of K.R. Mangalam University volunteered for the activity showing utmost support and dedication with prof. Ruchika Yadav (Associate professors SOMC) and prof. Monika Yadav (Asst. professors SOMC).

In her primer to sustainable development methods, Dr. Monika Yadav explains that innovation is making deliberate improvements to a company's goods, services, or procedures to provide long-term social and environmental advantages while producing money for the organisation. She adds that the COVID 19 epidemic was an opportunity and an innovation accelerator since it was a tidal wave that changed the rules of the game for all organisations. It first establishes sustainability as the cornerstone of the innovation process before expanding the focus on CSR and sustainable innovation among employees.

When speaking to everyone in attendance, Dr. Ruchika Yadav extensively discussed sustainable practises. According to her, timely preparation for the change that human activities and compaction overuse of resources may bring about should be made in terms of mitigating conflicts and achieve a more holistic relationship between society and its environment.

To disseminate more information, a participative interaction in the form of question and answers was conducted. At the end of the activity, feedback forms were distributed which recorded overall positive feedback from the employees involved. The team of SOMC was invited to conduct more innovative programmes in future.

Session was overall quite interactive since there was necessary discipline maintained throughout. This entire activity was duly performed by the coordinators and volunteers with utmost zeal and dedication.

As the event concluded, a feedback form and questionnaire were passed among the attendees to validate their overall experience which received a satisfactory and positive response since the audience seemed emotionally as well as mentally enlightened and had understood the information that was imparted by the speakers present there.
