The School of Legal Studies at KR Mangalam University organized an Intra-School Mock Trial that showcased the remarkable talents of first-year students. The mock trial was based on the iconic case of Aruna Ramchandra Shanbaug vs. Union of India and others. In this simulated courtroom drama, each student enthusiastically embraced various roles, from the victim and witnesses to doctors and petitioner complainant.

The event was truly a collaborative effort, with students representing both the complainant and accused sides as advocates. The students also took on the roles of judges, demonstrating their understanding of legal proceedings and their commitment to ensuring a fair trial. This multifaceted approach allowed them to gain a comprehensive perspective on the legal process.

Chair Professor Prof. Dr. Mehraj Udiin Mir Motilal Nehru Chair, Gargi Singh an Assistant Professor at the School of Legal Studies and chairperson of the Moot Court Committee, and Megha Garg, the member of the Moot Court Committee, played pivotal roles in guiding the students throughout the event,

The mock trial was an innovative concept for the first-year students, providing them with a hands-on experience of the legal system and the intricacies of courtroom dynamics. The event served as a platform to showcase the students' legal acumen, critical thinking, and advocacy skills.

Overall, the intra-school mock trial was a resounding success, and it was a testament to the dedication and hard work Of the students and the support of the faculty and committee members. It not only enhanced their understanding of legal proceedings but also encouraged a passion for law and justice.
