On August 29th, 2024, the School of Architecture and Design (SOAD) at K.R. Mangalam University hosted an Alumni Interaction Session, bringing together former and current students, along with faculty, to foster a sense of community and networking. The primary aim of the session was to bridge the gap between academic learning and industry demands by providing new students with valuable insights from alumni who have successfully navigated the professional world. During the session, alumni shared their personal experiences, discussed the challenges and opportunities they encountered in their respective fields, and introduced students to various companies they are currently associated with. This provided the students with a clear understanding of the diverse career paths available within the industry. Key topics included the importance of internships, skills development, and best practices for succeeding in the professional world. The event concluded with an interactive Q&A session, allowing students to ask specific questions and seek direct guidance from alumni. This interaction not only gave students realistic expectations of their post-graduation journeys but also enhanced their understanding of industry requirements and encouraged networking and mentorship. This Session proved to be a valuable platform for knowledge exchange, reinforcing the significance of alumni relationships in shaping the future of current students. Building on this success, future alumni interaction sessions could include workshops and extended mentorship programs, further enhancing students' professional growth, particularly in areas like entrepreneurship and employability.
