School of Journalism and Mass Communication organized a two day workshop on 27th & 28th Feb, 2024, titled "Cartoon as a tool of communication" at C-108. The workshop featured esteemed guest speaker Mr. Sharad Sharma, cartoonist and Founder, world Comics India and coordinated by Dr. Ritwik Ghosh and Ms. Aditi Agarwal. The workshop explored the significance of cartoons in conveying messages effectively. The Day 1 of the workshop was carefully crafted to provide a comprehensive understanding of the historical context, techniques, and contemporary relevance of cartoons in communication. The students were instructed to draw the cartoons on any political or contemporary issues. The day 1 of the workshop was a resounding success with the invaluable contributions of Mr. Sharad sharma and the active participation of students.

On Day 2 of the event, students eagerly delved into the realm of creativity, harnessing their imagination to craft a myriad of cartoons under the watchful guidance and supervision of esteemed faculty members. With pens poised and minds brimming with ideas, they embarked on a journey of artistic expression, each stroke of the pen breathing life into whimsical characters and vibrant scenes. Guided by the expertise and mentorship of their instructors, the students honed their skills, exploring different styles and techniques to bring their cartoons to fruition. Laughter and camaraderie filled the room as they collaborated and exchanged insights, fostering a dynamic atmosphere of learning and innovation.
