for school students to his venture into augmented reality domain. Mr. Saini discussed about the upcoming industry trends and the skills need to excel in those domains. Mr. Saini presented several case studies highlighting the role of technology in education domain. The session ended with a discussion on the importance of internships and projects in securing a job.

Outcome: Students had a clearer understanding of their potential professional prospects as a result of the event, which produced a lively interchange of ideas. Students were motivated to strive for greatness by the alumnus's relatable personal experiences. Additionally, the event provided networking opportunities, enabling students to form relationships that may be useful in their future careers.

Conclusion: The successful Alumni Connect lecture series strengthened the close relationship between the university and its past students. It emphasized the value of real-world experience and comprehensive growth outside of the classroom.

Further Scope: Alumni and students will continue to connect in a number of ways beyond this initial event. By encouraging graduates from a range of
